

Taylor Brelsford

Taylor Brelsford is recently retired from a three-decade career in environmental science, subsistence management, and public outreach in Alaska Native communities. Taylor served as an Alaska Common Ground Board member from the late 1990's to 2011, helping to lead forums on Bridging the Urban Rural Divide and volunteering with Understanding Neighbors, an arts-based citizen dialogue on same-sex marriage.